Set-up (5 minutes)

On the board draw a stick picture of a person with a ball at his feet. Write the name Simon under the picture. Ask one student what Simon is doing. Elicit "Simon is playing soccer." Erase the ball and ask what he is doing now. Elicit "Simon is walking" or "Simon is going for a walk."

Procedure (25 minutes)

Divide the students into pairs. Give each pair a set of pictures, A and B. Have the students ask each other two questions about what the people in the pictures are doing.

Have each pair of students find six things about the pictures that are different. If necessary, help them by writing an example on the board:

A: What is Ali doing in your picture?
