

RELIGIOUS ORIENTATION OF MUALLAF

Anugerah Gineung Pratidina

Susilo Wibisono

ABSTRACT

This study aims to determine how religious orientation on self a convert. Respondent is a person who has done conversions into Islam (converts), and the number of respondent in this study were two respondents. This study uses in-depth interviews to the religious orientation developed by a convert. By grouped several aspects, later revealed to be an interview guide used as a reference study investigators. The method used is a method of coding, in which points are points gained during the interview grouped or classified into several parts and used during the discussion. From the research conducted, it is concluded that there are things that encourage respondents to have a decision to make a religious conversion to Islam. There is doubt about the truth in the old religion and also the guidance that comes to self-respondents.

Kata kunci : religious orientation, muallaf